

NELFA PRESS RELEASE – FRANCE MARRIAGE EQUALITY

The Network of European LGBT Families Associations (NELFA) rejoices in the recent vote (23 April) in the French National Assembly in favour of marriage and family equality. This is not only a victory for France but for the whole of Europe. The French Parliament decided on the right side of History.

NELFA thanks all the French and international activists who worked to see this law come true. A special thank you goes to our French members, APGL and Les Enfants d'Arc en Ciel - l'Asso!, for all their indefatigable efforts. NELFA feels honoured to have been part of the movement pushing for equality in France.

NELFA would like to dedicate a special word of appreciation for the work of Justice Minister Taubira, who proved to be one of the staunchest allies of our families and our children.

NELFA would have liked to see the inclusion of access to medically assisted means of reproduction for same-sex couples in the new laws. We look forward to future debate in this respect.
